

Learning modules about being safe online

This free training is about online safety. It can help you learn how to stay safer when you use the internet.

The training has 4 online lessons. You can do them at your own pace. The lessons use things like video, animation and text-to-speech. This can make the training easier to use.

You will learn about:

- cyberbullying
- scams
- what information is safe to share
- what links are safe to click
- your rights online

Endeavour Foundation made this training after getting funding from the Australian Government. The project was made to help people with intellectual disability build online safety skills and feel more confident online.
